Calling all Artists!

We have reserved space in the Joint-Use Library for a Spring Art Show in April and May.

Details will be settled later, but for now, mark April as your deadline to finish those art projects you have been wrestling with.

There is one limitation in this location. The Joint-Use Library does not have a glass case. All entries will need to be hanging art. If that limitation changes, I’ll let you know.

The Joint-Use Library is located on College Crescent near the entrance to the Advanced Technology Center (ATC) Building. It is called Joint-Use because it serves both the students of TCC and the general public.

If you are newly retired and feel inspired to pick up paint, pen, pencil, or a point-and-shoot camera, contact the office (756-4861) and let me add you to my email list of exhibitors.

Thank you,
Fran Scott
